Happy St. Patrick's Day

BLUE KNIGHTS® FLXVII NEWSLETTER

MARCH 2024

MESSAGE FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

Greetings Brothers and Sisters,

Happy March!!

Things are heating up and the days are getting longer in beautiful South West Florida. We have some great upcoming events and rides planned for you as well as a multi chapter BBQ in Sebring April 8th. I will need your RSVP for this event as soon as possible. It should be a great time meeting fellow Knights from around the state.

Unfortunately our Thunder By The Bay charity ride was canceled this year due to rain. This ride was dedicated to Rory MacConnell. We are working on a makeup ride and event with the Suncoast Charities for Children stay tuned for details.

I would like to thank everyone who came out and helped with this years Thunder By The Bay. This is a huge event for us. Its very time consuming and takes some manpower but we usually are able to make a nice amount of our yearly donation money for our kids and charities.

This year we have donated $1000.00 to the Suncoast Charities for Children. We helped with the Taste of Thunder raising funds by having fun and we volunteered with security work in the VIP area during the Thunder By The Bay event. All of this directly impacts all the children who benefit from the Suncoast Charities.

I am so very proud of our chapter for all the work and time dedicated to everything we do for our community and the kids who need it.

Ride with Pride
Patrick Gibbons
President, FLXVIII

VP Message Jim Thomas

Hello Brothers and Sisters,

The right hand of service.

I have spoken to several Knights over the past few weeks, and some have shared the same views as I. A few weeks ago, our chapter was devastated by the passing of two brothers. As it stands, we have seen the troops rally, but I noticed that while one did work for the Knights, the other did God's work. Not much has been said about this brother. No great big parade has been awarded for his passing. No banners, no acknowledgement other than to say his passing was tragic. We sat and listened to stories about how this brother always made sure his friends knew he was thinking of them. He was always available to the call of his church but to some, his call went much deeper with his faith behind the wheel. His life was dedicated to doing for others. If he thought you needed shirts, he went into his closet and got them for you. If he thought you needed to talk to someone, he called you relentlessly to come break bread with him. I have talked to people who shared his pew and heard tales of him finding homeless people, bringing them home, giving them a place to bathe, a meal and a good night's sleep. I have heard tales of a man who would give shelter to those in need because he felt it was God's work. Never an unkind word to be spoken of anyone, regardless of if they were before him or not. Always words of support. He was a pillar of his church. He did for those who were incapable of doing for themselves. His goal was to help his fellow man, never himself. His thoughts were always of others. His kindness and his smile was always warm and brought others smiles to the surface. If there were a physical definition of a good man, I feel this man would embody the very definition. He will be missed and I feel the surrounding chaos of his departure left thoughts of his contributions to this world unmentioned. He will be sorely missed and I hope that he has finally found his end to his pain in his transition to Heaven one. Rest well Paul Feiber. As we lose brothers, we need to remember them all with the same elegance and respect. This man certainly earned it. Ride with Pride. Go with God and may peace reign in all hearts. When our brothers fall, they should all be held in high honor. It's always man's worst fear that they die alone and unmentioned. It's our job to ensure that never happens.

In other news, The TBTB weekend was a blow but we all had fun and got some good vittles. Thanks to all who braved the oddly unique weather I look forward to seeing what happens next year.

Did You Know?

Exploring Red Cardinal Biblical Meaning and Symbolism

Some of the traditions about the meaning of the presence of a cardinal

- The red cardinal is a spiritual messenger from God.
- The red cardinal is representative of one of departed loved ones attempting contact.
- When a red cardinal hits a window, it is a bad sign representing death.
- The red cardinal represents the blood of Christ.
- Symbolizing combating difficulties with hope in God, the red cardinal appears in times of stress and despair to encourage hope and persistence.

Is that the presence of a red cardinal represents God or a messenger from God? The word cardinal is not specifically used in the Bible. Cardinals are not native to the Mediterranean area, the setting for most of the books of Scripture.

There is no question that God has used animals and birds throughout the Bible as signs of His presence or to draw attention to His message. God used eagles, doves, sparrows, ravens and other birds to demonstrate His love and care for humans.

Some theologians see the cardinal symbolizing the Holy Spirit, combining the fire element of the Spirit's work with the energy and life found in the Spirit. Tied with the blood of Christ, the cardinal represent the eternal life-giving nature of Jesus and His ministry.

The red color of the cardinal has been associated with the living blood of Christ. Cardinals have been seen as a symbol of vitality. In the Christian context, the blood of Christ is the heart of its message, and the vitality is everlasting. "Christ sacrificed his life's blood to set us free, which means that our sins are now forgiven" (Ephesians 1:7 CEV)

Connection With Ancestors

Other Native Americans believe that cardinals are messengers from the spirits of the dead. As such, the cardinal has a strong connection with ancestors. Its appearance stirs the importance of staying connected within the family. Some cultures adopt the cardinal as a totem animal. Rather than migrating, the cardinal stays at home during the difficult winter months.

Messages from the Heavens

God has a history of sending messages to His people. Birds are often believed to be symbols of spiritual messages connecting heaven and earth. While the red cardinal biblical meaning may be spurious, the presence of the cardinal stirs people to feelings of life, restoration, communication and hope. The tradition surrounding the cardinal is rich and respected in history, pointing to the meeting point between the physical and spiritual worlds. You will not be alone if you ponder and contemplate a message from beyond when you sight a cardinal.
